AGENDA 2024

STOP HUNGER

God's big Plan for a better Future – a free Text by Bertram Eljon Holubek, 2015 a, Cologne

This short text puts God's great plan on the agenda. Until the year of 2024 a (after) we shall stop hunger in all the world. We Earthlings can do it, at least in principle. We need to let die out colored and low-quality subhumans. Thus we can overcome the most important causes of wars and riots, of slavery, exploitation and economic crises, of unwanted migration and crime. We must learn to find out the true origin of hunger, and to achieve the power to get rid of them. And we must not keep to ideologies who are outdated. And this firstly means that we need to dispose of the wrong thinking of old-time religions, who are indeed devilish evil!

Hunger is really bad, and we should not joke about it. But if a text only occupies with the dumb Negroes of Africa, then often only the wrong sort of people may read it. Therefore here also football (soccer) is the topic, and recent scenes from the World Championship and the Deutsch (German) Premier League are discussed. Made public are also cynical to funny posters who artfully draw attention to the problems of the world. That is the case for example regarding this recent poster, from the hazy circles around of the EKD church – the leading protestant sect of Deutschland (Germany). One of their groups of hunger relief claims: "There is enough for all!" Do they mean the food that is often just missing in third world countries? The real origins of hunger are often darkened by the lies of the clerics. The fact is that our world is terribly overpopulated. And we must put the blame for this on Christians and Muslims, while more and more low quality humans are born.

The Main Points

Seriously, is there enough food for all? Help organizations and activists tell us absurd lies about this! Some help professionals claim that the merchants secretly let food rot, to keep the level of prices stable. They show us secret food staples on markets. But the truth is that many people die of hunger because there is just not enough food. There are just many too many people on Earth. And hunger relief of the churches often only worsens the problems. Hand out more food to the subhumans and they will need even more, since more food makes them more numerous. This is a problem especially regarding the coloreds. Many coloreds are brutish and socially incompetent, they lack self control, putting children into this world who, it is foreseeable, must starve to death. Many coloreds are possessed like beasts by lewdness, and it's impossible to talk sense into them. For more than 60 years now UNICEF and other help organizations try to solve those problems, in vain largely. Their attempts failed more or less. According to a paper of the UNICEF from 2006 still every second child put into this world is a child in need. This means that there is simply not enough nutrition, drinking water and aid available. Such a child will not develop in a good way. We must drastically reduce population on a worldwide scale, and especially thwart those coloreds from reproduction. Coloreds and religious leaders however oppose to this thinking. Some are so stupid that they claim that the Earth is flat! Others are seduced by the lewdness of their followers. It is God's religion UTR alone that shows up the way to change all this. We need a new human species. We need new humans who are able to correctly distinguish the forces of good and evil.

1. Many too Many!

There are just many too many people! What can we do to change this? Regarding this basic question of our era, not only the big old-time religions like capitulated. But our culture too comes up with cynical ideas, like that of the “Hunger Games”.

The Hunger Games, we saw them in this very successful Hollywood film series “The Tributes of Panem”. We saw a world there in the aftermath of a Biblical disaster. Now there are many who have no food. It is clear to many that the population needs to be reduced. Well then, now the government comes up with the mortal hunger games. To the amusement of the masses some young tributes (people) are put into a forest, where they must combat one another until the last one survives. This plan is driven by the idea that only the strong and the fit ones survive, while the subhumans and the rogues cannot win this fight. This same idea actually rules the minds of most world leaders, as they subscribe to economic liberal competition. But they know not the Forces of Evil...

On a worldwide scale hunger is the biggest problem we Earthlings have. Billions of people don't have enough to eat. Millions of them starve to death. In some regions again and again hunger disasters occur. This is especially common in Africa, in regions where those Negroes live. But also in rich Europe there is still hunger, since paupers drop out of the “social network”. The main reasons for hunger are easily spotted. Many countries of the Earth are very much overpopulated. When too many people live in one land, this land cannot feed them properly. In many countries people reproduced too much over a long period of time. More people need more soil, for their buildings and their fields, grazing grounds and water supply. As the land is over-exploited it will die. Forests are put down fast, beasts and plants die out who were created in millions of years.

In many countries of North Africa for decades the level of ground-water keeps dropping. More and more people just use up more water there. The consequence is that even in Morocco many groves and fields get dry and die, who were essential to people. Those who lose their date palms or their grazing grounds must find other ways to earn a living, or they start to hunger. Much worse is the situation more to the south in Niger. There the worst Negroes of planet Earth live, who reproduce at the fastest pace. They hunt and uproot all wild animals. When more and more goats and cattle eat up all the vegetation, originally rather green land becomes a desert, unable to still catch up the sparse rainfall.

For thousands of years many regions of this planet are overpopulated. Typical for the Sahel zone and other oriental regions was a fast rise of population especially in those last decades. In Syria for instance the population doubled in short time, during the Hafiz al-Assad presidency. Older travel guides praise Syria, and the Lebanon too, as classy multicultural countries; where people of very different religions and nationalities live together without problems. But in a very short time the situation worsened dramatically. Apparently without a reason civil wars erupted. Recently the Islamic Sadists militia IS transformed parts of Syria and Iraq nearly into a hell on Earths. People get crucified there to the interest of those Muslims – those are games reminding of ancient Rome. But while Rome was also at the center of high-brow culture, Muslims know nothing of that kind.

Hunger aid granted by the west is one of the most serious causes for the catastrophic development in many countries of the orient. Cheap truckloads of help goods had the result that many orientals were spreading out in an unfettered way, since they were having many too many children. There was just no food nor jobs nor housing for those kids. And when the societal tensions worsened, and since help stopped to come in, masses of orientals pushed into Turkey and versus Europe. They are called hunger fugitives, and for the time being they remain peaceful. But this peace is a treacherous one. We should learn this from history.

War constantly rules in the oriental countries, especially since the days of Mohammed. This war often is the main topic in western media like CNN. Here they are for real, those Hunger Games! Young men die there, nobody likes and nobody needs them. In this war that is without hail (sake, good karma), fought by the IS against the roguish president Baschar al-Assad, there is no good side. It was the will of God that civilian rebels should overthrow this dictator to then get rid of Muslim fanatics, just like it was done in Egypt. Sadly this plan didn't work out in Syria. But that is not the way the media and the public look at this war. Not only the TV-viewers of planet Earth commonly watch fantastic war action films and also real-life war reports with interest. There are Forces of Evil too who enjoy watching this here on Earth. Cosmic evil powers (Greys) are responsible for the overpopulation. They do this to generate hunger and suffering. They are devils who hide behind the IS. It is correct that they want to destroy Earth. But since they are half-crazed zombies they forget about this objective. They just like too much to torture.

2. Human or Subhuman

Nearly all humans have some kinds of feelings for our planet, and for the idea that we should attempt to save the world and make it become a better place. So how may this be done? Surely better people are good for better efforts. But as we try to find out what better people are, opinions are widely different. Most disturbing are those mendacious religious groups who come up with some utter old nonsensical lore. They damn those wiser people who turn their backs to this. For a long time those priests of lies had to rely on subhumans, since only those coloreds of a bad genetic quality would still deeply fall for their old erroneous eyewash.

Now here we the see Azzo and Jacob. These are two especially primitive Negroes, as seen from the outside. In comparison to normal humans they have especially small brains. We should assume that they are much less of value than normal humans, and even Negroes of good development. That was the case for Azzo. This subhuman (archetypal human) was mentally retarded. He hardly spoke, and lived a very primitive life in the wilderness of Morocco. The Negro Jacob Zuma however made one kind of career. He is at the moment the elected president of the Republic of South Africa. That surprises, since Jacob is a rather bad person. He raped Negresses in more than one case, and also has children from many sex partners. Jacob got to the top of a political system of injustice. He makes use of his powers to enrich himself and his party allies, and also to thwart criminal persecution. In theory South Africa is a democracy. We might expect even from many Negroes that they vote better politicians into office, and those would be white politicians. But while this doesn't work out we white people too are to blame. Many good people of the Earth are just misled by outdated religions. As for today, world organizations work with those utterly primitive Negroes, when their objective is to fight against hunger. But how can we educate such people to not reproduce in an unfettered way? They need to know that their progeny is just not wanted. But even Jacobs predecessor, the Negro Thabo Mbeki, reacted to any criticism regarding himself or other Negroes with the harsh accusation of white racism. Thabo allegedly was an AIDS-denialist, one who failed to believe that a virus causes this disease. Today Thabo is chairman and leading member of groups like the UNECA, that controls the distribution of aid money in all of Africa. Some years ago every year approximately 20.000 million US-$ vanished from those funds. Today this sum is 60.000 million US-$. That means that for clever UN-roguers it may greatly pay off to make friends with Thabo.

If we want to fight hunger more effectively, we need to research into it's origins. The central and easily cognizable origin is that in many countries people are too fertile. A land that could nourish well a few people gradually dies from a population that became too numerous. Here the quality of humans is pivotal! Better white people learned in Europe and in the white man's countries to let their environment thrive including themselves. In comparison with the typical white human, the typical Negro is definitely a person of a lower quality mind. This shows up from intelligence tests where Negroes get low grades. More proof comes from the social incompetence Negroes show in every-day life. The effect of this is that Negroes especially often procreate children who have no place in this world and who are disliked and not wanted, even by their parents. Negroes don't care enough for their young ones, who often are barely educable. Negroes have this tendency towards drugs, and they rape much more frequently than humans. Negroes are just obvious subhumans. The fact doesn't change this result that some few Negroes show top quality results in sports.

These are (for the common minds) easily recognizable facts. Logical and wise humans would feel obliged to draw the consequences. We need to take action to stop Negroes and other similarly low quality humans from reproduction. Such subhumans should die out. That simple recommendation is given to the humans by the principle of evolution for eons. Again and again, those archetypal and visibly primitive subhumans like Azzo died out, while better evolved humans reproduced and developed to higher levels. Social incompetence was in part responsible for this process. Behind this was also the insight of subhumans that they are just less good and better should not have kids. Since subhumans could cope less with themselves and their environment, they were overpowered and pushed aside by genetically better humans in the competition of evolution. It was hunger too, that always bettered up the quality of humankind. Thus we could conclude that it is a dangerous error if the human society now tries to stop hunger by way of providing every subhuman with enough food. Food aid leads to responsibility! Those who feed unfit and underdeveloped humans, need to see to it that they do not work against evolution by way of procreating unwanted progeny.

In South Africa, the Boers of Nordic descent again and again recognized that the Whites are just naturally and principally humans of better quality, compared to the Negroes. It is a simple fact that in some all-white settlements in South Africa there are hardly any crimes, while it's hardly possible to live in peace among Negroes. But there are liberals, and adverse and violence-prone persons, who stubbornly resist to this simple truth. As we try to talk with the voice of reason to them, many react with insults or menaces. For instances the Negro Jacob Zuma in 2012 sang a Negro song at a gathering of his party (ANC) saying: Shoot the Boer! Of course behind this is the fact that Christianity, this traditional religion of South Africa, does not even know the difference between humans and subhumans. This bad religion fills up many subhumans with bad haughtiness. For Christians God is a cruel dictator, demanding of them a stupid and absolute obedience. Many left-winged infidels subconsciously duck too before the menaces of the Christians. The hope unites many stupid and adverse people that they might live again and much better after they die. God's new religion UTR but now destroys that erroneous faith.

3. Calling Negroes by their Name

In the days when South Africa was still a white country, life was better for many Negroes than it is today. After the former terror-chief Nelson Mandela had quasi liberated the land from the Boers' rule, crime cyphers skyrocketed. From many townships, where the poorer Negroes are housed, criminal gangs drove away the police. Many Negroes turn to booze and take drugs, they beat up and rape women. That is cool for some adverse people, who rally in Europe too for more migrants and their lifestyles. But these people don't include the devils into their accounts. Devils can manipulate Negroes especially well, using them for their evil plans.

Not only many Negresses become the victims of crime in South Africa, and in comparable countries. Also in 1999 the good looking white lady Charlene Smith was raped in South Africa. She later described in the internet what had happened, but it was not possible for her to call the perpetrator a Negro – that word is taboo. The felon, who hurt Charlene with a knife too, was of “not very dark skin, the pale tones of a Xhosa”. Those who try to “kill” the word Negro secretly help to cover those very typical felons. That is the case regarding some liberals, who intend to protect the Negroes. If it would become known how bad these people really are, more persecution would ensue.

Every 26 seconds in South Africa a woman gets raped, it was my ti

This is just the point where some people surely get annoyed. Here race becomes a topic, and that is what they strictly reject. They cite teachings like this one of the Brit Robert Miles from 1935:

Race is a word that belongs into the garbage bin of analytical useless denominations.

That is my retranslation from the German book “Racism” by sociologist Karin Priester (Priest). Just this name gives us a hint that there is something wrong with Frau Priester. Only on first view such pseudo-scientists argue logically and honest. The truth is that they were stamped and refined according to the Christian-oriental religion, saying that the Jewish people and oriental humans are the types chosen by God. Frau Priester was born in 1941, so she has been broken early in her life. Such people only can chew up again their old-time beliefs. The urn of ashes is where such people have their place of rest, and we may add the ashes of their old-time books – since those old-time books often veil the truth using bizarre and hard to interpret verbiage like “analytically useless”. The verb “analytical” sounds like false Jewish Science anyway. Adolf Hitler the Austrian too was stamped by that lore. That means that Hitler didn't really and rationally believe in God, just like the Austrian Jew Sigmund Freud. The consequence was that Hitler regarded humans as either gods or devils. Typical for those Nazis was, just like for the fascists of ancient Rome, a mixture of egoistic megalomania and fatalism. In the end they submitted to the drive to deliver their own people into destruction. Behind this drive we find the old Romanic and left-winged frenzy versus the Deutsche (Germans). At the origin of this drive is a covered-up fact: The Deutsche people are truly the chosen people of God. That too made the Deutsche, at the side of the Jews, become big historical losers.

Many experts who are fooled by Jewish Science momentarily hold on to the lore that race science is in general not acceptable, since it is incorrect. They argue with “politically correct” prejudices in mind. The consequence is pseudo-logical pseudology and rabulistics (obfuscation with words). We hear of them the notion that the color of the skin only does depend on a few genes and has no crucial meaning in life. But neither are they competent nor are they honest. They ignore that there are many more racial features than just the color of the skin. This leftist-liberal pseudology for instance fails to explain why races are (or at least were) significantly distributed over our planet; with the consequence that they formed very homogenous groups. Why are Negroes commonly seen as the race of Africa? Why are the people of one special race centered on each one of the six continents, including the two Americas? Why do colored Japanese change to become Nisei, just because they live in America for a longer time? Why did those few Mongos die out again who in prehistory settled down in Australia? Old-time science ignores these questions, since only I and my new religion UTR are able to answer them. God created this planet according to a bad plan (here) called Berk-OS. Berk-OS demanded the creation of “the Ugly”, the colored races, on continents two to six. Those are doomed and earmarked for extinction, but the chance remains that they may topple the master race one by way of racial mixture, and thus damage the entire planet. Berk-OS, that bad operating systems, makes it easier for the Greys to destroy a living planet.

Those Negroes who reproduce too much in their Negro regions of Africa, fast become a dangerous plague in other places. They stream in hordes into neighboring countries like Morocco. Wild living Negroes trouble many regions. Therefore the humans catch some of them and put them into the desert of Sahara. There those miserable subhumans must die of thirst in a cruel way. Sadly some Negroes however manage to enter into Europe. There they mostly become social parasites. Many already become rogues at the border, since they lie without shame and use false passes, claiming to be refugees. Some then become supremely dangerous terrorists of Islam. The plague of the Negroes has turned some regions into bandit zones. In France once an uprising happened, and Negroes set fire to many cars. That is exactly what radical leftists welcome, who regard terror and chaos as the way to leftist despotism and arbitrariness, a system wherein all political power becomes theirs. Similar is the thinking of many subhumans, who mainly try to win sex partners for themselves. God but brings up the better alternative to the nightmares of the Chaotic and the Ugly. Only humans with better genes should reproduce, to then better up the entire world. God wants humanity to transform their planet into a paradise. But that is beyond acceptance for many blinded or bad believers. They rather believe that Earth is doomed anyway, while they will go to heaven after doomsday. Left-winged pseudo-scientists too at times respond to the inner devil, telling them such kind of stuff.

If we manage to correctly identify these problems, then we also need to consequently work them away. Well, we must ban Negroes effectively from reproduction and spreading using measures of politics and administration. It should be a political question then, how many human rights those subhumans should have, and how consequently we are willing and able to act, to put a politics of race and settlement into action. We encounter political problems here, and we meet resistance that we should call surprising and unexplainable. Not only these subhumans come on with resistance against such a sane new politics. But many Whites too harshly resist to even perceive and discuss these problems. That mysterious phenomenon for many years made the problems get ever worse.

In political and scientific panels it was common for a long time to not call Negroes by their name. But they were called Africans (German: Afrikaner). That term is incorrect, since it also covers Whites and other coloreds. Also Blacks doesn't fit to the facts, since some Negroes are of rather pale skin. This code of language was put into action by the panels of the so-called United Nations (UN). That is actually a supranational institution that is dominated and blockaded by rogues from many nations. Once upon a time some UN officials claimed that the distinction of races is not suitable since some Negroes were better humans than some Whites. But from the perspective of the religion UTR I can say for sure that there are devils who mislead the world with a handful of excellent Negroes. There are the Greys, who intend to kill us all, with the help of the Berk-OS trick. That is just what the Bible says too in it's final book. At the UN people tried dishonorable tricks to prevent the question of the Negroes from being put on the political agenda. The fact is that in some panels of the UN, fanatical and egoistic leftist freaks form a majority. Many rogues profit a lot from the delusion of the UN. In some cases the consequence is that Negroes use food relief money to buy themselves firearms and luxury cars. Many help organizations too just earn their salaries with the misery of the poor. And many economic liberals secretly deem that the misery of the poor brings in more profit for them. Only people who are threatened by hunger are ready for hard-style exploitation.

So, for decades world politics was just not able to identify the real problems of the poor countries. Instead they often did as if those Negroes were just humans like others. This had bad side-effects.

The result was that Negroes were asked to participate and succeed in worldwide competition. Often they were prodded to want more “growth”, since that was supposed to solve their problems. But a stronger growth of the headcount of Negroes has the opposite effect, it only leads to more misery and hunger. While we are still unable to even identify the Negro question (and also mark the unsurpassable weaknesses of the other colored races), sadly we are rather powerless in our fight against hunger. The problem is too that not only African Negroes but also Mongos from East Asia and many other coloreds bring the UN to the brink of bankruptcy, endangering all the world. They just reproduce beyond the limits of common mental sanity. Only the help of UTR allows us lately to realize the secret strategy of the half-crazed cosmic Greys, that we meet again and again: For instance the Greys constantly try to promote people with names like “Sam” to top positions. With the help of just a few key figures under their control the Greys also rally politically, mainly for “growth”. But just that is unwanted in the Africa of the Negroes. As we really try to overcome hunger and other problems in our world, let us no longer practically cover up these problem's real origins, with the help of misleading language taboos, that verbicide. Those old-time religions didn't even know the names of the evil Greys that were goading them, out of the dark of night. The new religion UTR only is able to correctly answer the Negro question and to name the real culprits. Neither those Negroes are to blame nor white racists, but Greys like Ga-Sama are. Clerics mainly resist to this lore. But as UTR brings up more teachings, who take a stand against very ancient erroneous religious teachings, the time will come to trust into these teachings too.

4. They don't want a Bite!

It would be very simple to feed all the world in a better way. But for to achieve this we would need to go the way of the Deity of Nature. It's just obvious that only with the help of Mother Nature it's possible to let the Earth thrive. But those who rather put their trust into heaven are often goaded into biting hard their way through life.

Here's a spectacular scene that comes from the Football World Championship of 2014 in Brazil. The colored Latino Suarez just bit his opponent! With a biting mood those right-winged liberals of planet Earth often act as they push Negroes and other coloreds into the teams. Some papers sport most every day this or that Negro on page one, claiming that just this one would fit well into the local football team. Behind this process we not only find a worldwide gang of oligarchs. For them mass sports are a means to divert the minds of the simple minded people from the real problems of the world. But those who deliberately promote colored people often need to disregard their typical massive shifts of form, and their bad deeds.

Hunger is bad for people. Due to hunger many people can't develop well. Those who eat healthily and well will become better people. That is not only proven by medicine, but any human mind can easily understand this. Most experts of food and diet more or less agree over the kind of food that is healthy for humankind. They recommend to eat lots of fruits, and protein and vegetables; but to rather stay away from fatty food and stimulants (like brandy, coffee and tobacco). But for many miserable people it's a scorn when they must hear that many rich people are involuntarily overweight. Even many workers can't get enough food for a decent nutrition, no matter how hard they struggle. Hunger makes many paupers become apathetic and hardly able to start an initiative. Any more or less reasonable human should easily understand that for him it's most vital in life to get to good food. People should use their minds and search a lore of nutrition that is worthy. But that is beyond the mental limits of many people. They were educated with a bad lore of religion from childhood days on. Not only Indian fakirs are known to prefer fasting and self-mistreatment.

The Spartans for instance believed that staying hungry was a method to strengthen the spirit of combativeness. They overheard that a sane mind only lives in a sane body. The good spirit misses out from many darker people (Surtungs) to try and eat healthily. That problem is due to the Greys who just hold too much influence on them. Even if it would be possible for them to eat well, they don't care, since a false inner voice leads them on bad ways. In the origin the Deity who created Earth only intended to create a few white Titans. The masses of subhumans were the result of the intrusion of the cosmic Greys. The morbid badness of those zombies shapes many coloreds and makes it impossible for them to live well. Much more easily than the Whites they are misled on bad ways.

That lore of theology is not special for the UTR, but it gets well confirmed by the Bible. Jewish-Christian religion too teaches that there is a Force of the Earth that makes humans become wise. But this Snake of Eden is called the devil, that is what the Jews believe. Gods are for them the heavenly powers who instil stupidity into the human minds and who threaten to annihilate Earth. That can't well be true, in spite of the fact that Christians and Jews mindlessly submit to the latter powers. The ethics of the Bible is evil from page one, it misleads Bible believers into following the powers of evil. Consequently those powers were leading their believers into starvation, with Jesus and his treacherously false teachings. Yeah, it is simply not true what Jesus used to teach, that thou shalt not care for tomorrow – since birds also don't sow and reap, and while the world is doomed anyway and allegedly will go under soon. Christian religion is hostile to it's own planet. It is a religion designed by Surtungs for other Surtungs.

The religion of the Bible starts in the book of Genesis with a lore of good nutrition. In the fruitful garden of Eden, the Snake of the Earth addresses Eva the first woman. Ewa tells Eva to eat the good fruits and to try and win wisdom. But a wrathful power devilizes the snake, and drives out those first humans from paradise with bolts. That heavenly power warned those humans: Those who eat the fruits of Ga-Ewa will die instantly! Later Jesus taught his followers to consume wine and bread or to fast. Instead of working for the sake of good food, they should thus prepare for heaven. A flock of deluded people then was led by the abomination into the valley of Kidron. There they all had to stay hungry. Already Moses had done the same with a similar crowd of Jews. With false promises he had led them into the desert. There they had to suffer from hunger, and secretly they even became man-eaters. That cannibalism, that I blamed on my page-one poster, is also the secret message of the ritual performed at the Christian so-called service to God. Woe, the symbolic consuming of God only reveals the depravity (foulness) of the lore of the Christians. Only those who overpopulate Earth and have nothing to bite really fall for the Bible – in the pit. As hunger and insanity grab people and clutch on them they will turn with more zeal towards their church. Since Surtungs often reproduce in such a bad manner, God created such false religions. They were designed for to mislead Surtungs and subhumans onto the ways of errors, ways that would lead to their neutralization.

Is there no better kind of religion? Once there existed the much better religion of the Titans. The mythical Titan Kronos-Saturn battled for Gaia (Ga-Ewa) versus the hostile sky of the night. In the Edda, the Holy Scripture of the Nordic, we find a few traces of this.

The mythological world of the Edda also knows this fruitful garden of paradise. There the goddess Idun (Eden) lives. With her fruits she gives eternal youth to a few superhumans.

We find her again as Audhumla the goddess of autumn. She freed the world of ice. Like a cow, with her milk she nurtured the first humans. But not everyone is in her favor. The Edda warns before the dark people (Surtungs) and the comets of the Surt (the southern Anti-Messiah); before gray giants and otherworldly monsters, and also before a traitor.

That Nordic-Aryan religion sees the powers of Earth and Heaven correctly. One good Goddess lives here with us, and we are well advised to value highly the good things she brings to us. While the Semites traditionally challenge the Goddess of Earth, those Nordic-Aryan peoples regarded her as the power who created them. As the Goddess of Earth she was especially well known, in the old days, on the island of Rügen (in north-eastern Germany), under the name of Nerthus. The hail (sake, but not rice wine) that this good Goddess was spending showed up when fields and villages thrived. The lore of this good Goddess reached India even before the days of the Indo-Aryans. Both Hinduism and Buddhism in principle teach that people should eat well. Despite of this there is much hunger in India, since there too the subhumans reproduced too much. Many dark-skinned “two-minutes-moms” are poor and socially incompetent, since they don't spend more than two minutes a day for the meal of their family. It's just the time they need to pour water and instant noodles into a pot. As people are forced to live in misery and poverty, they hardly can escape from this quagmire by their own efforts. That is called the devil's circle of poverty.

There are the good and the evil powers who influence the humans. Evil powers exert more power over people who have low-quality genes and who are badly developed. The good and well developed human may more easily acquire the hail (from German “Heil”, near in meaning to the English word health, but with a positive spiritual dimension too) of the Earth Goddess. Unfortunately God has to discard those people of bad race or poor development, as not eligible for divine support. Many such people are then misled by a false religion, since they would not be able to live within in the truth. Again and again an erroneous religion parted humankind, into those who were chosen and those who were “thrown”. Often subhumans were explicitly consulted to not eat healthy and well, but to take in drugs and to fight, so that they may destruct themselves. In a world so replete with the burdening and dangerous subhumans, that was a way the Goddess chose to take care that humankind would develop further upwards on the path of evolution.

For many humans the teachings of old-time religions seem to be mysterious and wrong. But with the help of the new UTR, it is also possible to correctly solve old riddles of religion. Those who correctly understand the religions of humankind win a better understanding of this world. It becomes possible for them to recognize God's plan for the salvation and better development of planet Earth. In theory many people could well see the truth, that the religions of humankind tell us of a Goddess of Earth that has good plans with them and their planet. But the Earth Goddess herself warns that she cannot grant her favor to all people. For weaker humans and for colored subhumans already the knowledge of good may become such a burden that they die from it. Just that is the reason why the Bible warns Semites before the good fruits of the Goddess, and shoves them out of the Garden of God. Those evil Greys from space (the gray giants of rime of the Edda) are just too powerful right now.

The legendary Titans (Teutanen, Deutsche) however remain in the favor of the good Goddess. The tale of the northern land of the Titans links us to those happy heavenly planets of the Humanoids. With their help, the Deity intends to transform our planet too into a good garden. The UTR teaches how this is done: By way of correct food and good development. With the help of my divine lore the Titanic new humans will become the helpers and directors of humankind. Our good Titans will know how to overcome hunger and plight in many countries, because their good inner voice will tell them what they can do. With the help of a new species of superhumans the Earth Goddess will become so powerful, that she can hinder unwanted and low-quality humans from reproducing, as if magic was involved. Most of the coloreds will die out in peace. In just the same way the Neanderthals and the Hobbits of Flores already died out too.

Versus this lore many Surtungs, adverse people and economic liberals may raise their objection. They can take a stand in the experiences of the past too. During the Nazi era, a similar lore was leading Europe and the world into great plight. But the error of the Nazis was not only that they were fanatical disbelievers who did not really know neither God nor devils, and therefore could not resist to the evil inner voice. The Nazi era also was the last time before the coming of the Savior. The Force of Evil tried one last big effort then to push the world into the bad karma. But now, as I show to the world the way into a better future, we can reliably avoid such times of bad destiny. Only if the worldwide crisis constantly worsens, since low-quality people and adverse people continue to reproduce and to expand, then another such period of plight would be due to come. But right now this world is on a good way. Already the fact that nearly everywhere people get ever more peaceful, shows that the coming of the Messiah is already a piece of known news.

5. Food Relief obliges!

Hunger is one of the worst problems of humankind. How cruel is it to let children starve, while they see in TV that rich people live in abundance. In our hands rests the force to change something. But we must handcuff those who incorrectly use this force. The campaign AGENDA 2024 – STOP HUNGER can only be a success as we erect a new world order that installs better governments everywhere.

This poster from Africa was part of a campaign of the government of Nigeria against corruption. For a long time Nigeria was ruled by the especially corrupt dictator Sani Abacha. He towered up a big hoard of money that didn't serve him when he died in 1998. Only now, 17 years later in 2015, the government of Swiss promises to give back a part of the hoard of the Abacha clan to Nigeria. But we must fear that this money will only be embezzled again by other oligarchs, and end up as a part of another hoard, of another oldster or fraudster. The constant political quagmire is not only Nigeria's problem. But similar is the situation in many Negro countries. Sadly there are two sides of that problem. Much help money would have helped Negroes to reproduce some more and to spread into other countries. Our world just cannot stand this. Only as we correct our thinking and fight the international Negro plague, then we can send in help that also arrives where it is needed while not causing collateral damage. But while we can not achieve this, fraud will win again. That means that the above caption will remain correct. In Africa even billions of US-$ just get lost, by way of fraud and tax avoidance. Mised aid money even made Africa so rich that it turned from being a net-debtor into a net-creditor! While millions of Negroes live in utter poverty, some rich Negro oligarchs speculate at this world's stock markets with money formerly donated for food and aid. It's a fact too that brazen Negroes from West Africa constantly try to dupe Whites via the Internet. But that is no topic on the agenda of the experts, who even beg for help money for this pack.

Africa losing billions from fraud and tax avoidance

For those who work for a help organization like the German "Brot für die Welt", asking people to donate is part of their daily work. Often just a few helpers work with much effort. They see to it that one help project after the other receives enough funds. But while most of this work is done the wrong way, the overall hunger relief just fails to work out. The most basic necessity would be to replace socially incompetent subhumans with better leadership personnel. And then we should make sure that the Negroes and coloreds who receive aid stop to reproduce in an out-of-control way. These subhumans should only have utterly few descendants. It would be easy to get on with this. For a few dollars we should be able to talk most any Negro into letting himself be sterilized. That would be easier if he can be sure that in that case he will receive food aid. If that plan would work out, in many crisis regions of Africa the environment could recover. Those fewer savages and nomads, who are still common in Africa, would find more food in the wilderness; thus they would need less food aid. But wild living animals and Negroes alike always reproduce massively for years, until a drought or a disease takes them down by the millions at nearly the same time. To fight the Negro plague God created special diseases for the Negroes. The natural dynamics of the rapacious and their booty also has the consequence that in times of overpopulation more crimes occur. These are natural mechanisms of population regulation who at the moment help to limit the Negro plague. Over the past thousands of years the Negro plague self-regulated with the help of hunger. It won't be easy to raise a new world order that will terminate those old days. Only when new humans without doubt represent the Force of God, they will be able to achieve this.

As we humans help those subhumans with food aid, we must take care that this does not lead to a rise in population, with the result that they eat barren their land. In regions where Negroes live we need an able and courageous leadership elite. So-called Negro nations should be dissolved. In their stead we should build up shelter regions of the white countries. An international army should rule and regulate those shelter regions, in consensus with the Negro peoples. Welcome in Africa are also Negro halfbreed types, who don't fit into Europe. The new white power government will come to Africa to erect white homelands there. That will preferably happen in the regions of a higher altitude, where the climate is more pleasant for the Whites. As we conquer and cultivate new land we show the power of Mother Nature. Negroes are absolutely not welcome in those homelands of the whites, since we don't want servants. However if all should remain like it is in Africa, then more droughts are to be expected. Then in Kenya too Negroes will continue to reproduce in a massive way, like it commonly happens in the Sahel zone; who eat up all the vegetation and ruin the land, until millions die of hunger, so that the land can recover. This will go on and on, as long as new Negro generations are born. The idea of a white power world is a spontaneous nuisance for many leftists and world citizens. They should become aware that their mood of resistance is to blame when on a worldwide scale about 1.000.000.000.000 subhumans permanently suffer from hunger.

Not only the subhumans of Africa starve. Hunger exists in many other countries. Even in white Russia and the Ukraine good people must hunger, since half-criminal oligarchs and war-lewd nationalists don't know how to rule well a good land. The Christian clerics are to blame for one main part of that plight. They give the blessing to rogues too they should condemn. But even in Deutschland (Germany) there is still secret hunger. Some parents deliberately neglect their own children, simply because they are emotionally cold. That is a problem just at a time when kids are prodded by their parents to take up Christian religion, something many refuse as a parental craze. Again and again news make it to the papers telling of kids who were heavily mistreated or badly neglected by their parents. A part of the campaign against hunger must also be to show to Whites how they can better control themselves. We don't have the new humans in Europe who would be needed in Africa. In Europe at least the public order sees to it that child abuse will be punished. This is different again as we look from Whites to Negroes. From the news we know the Nigerian band Boko Haram, that also receives financing from oriental Islamic radicals and rogues. Those bandits lately abducted school girls to sexually abuse them. They believe that Islam commands that these women must obey to them. We must also keep this in mind as young adventurers from Africa beg for asylum in Europe. Their life may be hard. But with those bad subhumans also their “unhail” (bad karma, the opposite of hail) comes from Africa to our better part of the world. We don't want their roguish erroneous faith at our places. That obliges us to take action that Negroes of such sorts don't find a place to live in Europe or even reproduce here. The false Negro fugitive must be punished. He shall be put into prison in his homeland. He shall lose all the goods that he acquired, so that he may not profit from his acts of asylum fraud. But that divine law is sadly not easily put into action, since some white women too lobby for the subhumans. Some even spread their legs for Negroes! Only God's new religion can allow them to develop a sane sense of shame. As the West donates aid against hunger he cannot escape from the responsibility for the consequences. Food aid obliges, it means that we must act politically and socially. This starts while we make sure that food relief gets to the hungry, and does not end up on the Swiss bank accounts of corrupt politicians and company bosses. We need guiding interventions into the economy. If we abstain from this, then western help goods tend to get fast into the hands of businessmen and bandits. They may even serve to finance Islam and international terrorism. We need to destroy those international criminal gangs who at the moment mainly herd and smuggle Negroes as false fugitives into Europe, to there turn them into drug dealers or cheap workers. Some radicals are possessed by a hate against Deutsche (Germans), in the same way those Nazis hated the Jews. Typical for them is that they strive to exert control over the women, but find that Deutsche step in their way. Better left-wingers and right-wingers should make the world a place where the resources are distributed with more fairness. Secretly unscrupulous liberals welcome hunger, since hunger forces “those without rights” to work ever longer and cheaper. It cannot be correct that we transfer the misery of the third world countries into western countries, as we let subhumans migrate. But facing God the West is obliged to use his powers to make this world become a better place.

6. They can be so silly!

Behind many corrupt people and criminals there simply lurks a roguish religion. It is typical for rogues that at first they are bad and sly. But especially to bad clerics it may happen that after some time they become ridiculously silly.

Here we see the Negro Bandar. He acts up like an Islamic preacher, in the good Arabian land Saudi Arabia. There too false fugitives and descendants of subhumans make it to top positions. That is especially easy in the perimeter of a religion that makes people get dumb and temps them to become rogues. But what the Negro Bandar recently uttered, right here, is a silliness that we may probably expect from Negroes only. On TV he pointed out that the Earth should be flat. That may be correct from the point of view of the Koran; but verily, it is silliness of a rare sort.

Past events too often teach us that subhumans sometimes seem to talk sense and to act normal, but only until they lose their minds to favor absolute stupidity. As they acquire political powers often chaos is the consequence. In many countries of Africa rebellious Negroes, who were pushed by racists, liberated themselves from a genetically superior white colonial power. Here it is again, the typical silliness of the coloreds. Often a chaos resulted. The fast rise of criminality cyphers changed many bearable Negro settlements into slums ruled by bandits. The sheer number of rapes ascended in Negro South Africa like a rocket into the night sky. A Deutsche Africa-expert, one of the very few who closely followed the development in Africa over many years, in 2001 wrote his "African Obituary". But we can compare this to the fact that in Deutschland at one time the dogs suddenly got wild. There were many attacks of dogs against humans, and consequently a law was passed that bigger dogs had to wear a muzzle basket. But in a rather magical way this problem secretly disappeared. That lets us hope that what became true for dangerous dogs can't be wrong for dangerous Negroes and other subhumans. Their attacks against white humans will suddenly stop. That will surely happen sooner while we manage to provide them all with food, and while we are willing to provide medical aid too, to make sure that in general Negroes stop to reproduce. Food aid obliges, and consequently we must take over political and social powers. That is too our way to handle the special hunger-land North Korea, that is also a land of a high level of injustice. The West needs to use hunger aid as a means to rally for political changes. By way of politics we must take action to prevent silly subhumans from rising into positions where they are laughably wrong. But the big question is whether the masters and mistresses who fight against hunger are also the right people to make those big changes in the world happen. The answer to this question is a clear no, as we meet Christians. It would be easy to catch those Mongos who form the leading layer of North Korea and put them before an international court for their crimes. But it is our own weakness that stops us. Since they hold on to a false and bad religion, western Christians are just mentally and ethically too weak. They cannot take a stand facing those subhumans, who strive to lead all the world into the chaos of tyranny, before a traditional ideological background. With the "winebibber" (drunkard) Jesus as an idol typical Christians can't even free themselves from evil.

As the advertising Christian organization "Brot für die Welt" asks for donations, their posters again and again are put for free on billboards in Deutschlând. But that what those posters tell us is hardly accepted by anyone. Either those posters show miserable coloreds, or those who received help, with the consequence that probably they reproduce some more, against the advice of God. One such poster that is often used tells us that there is enough (food) for all! That actually sounds like helpers scorn the hungry, while it is only typical Christian silliness. With silly helpers of that quality not only Africa gets ruined. But then a dark flood of coloreds and subhumans spills into Europe, with the consequence that it rips apart our social network. Christians can be that stupid. They show it when they act as if they were driven by force, and support even very mean traveling rogues (gypsies), phony asylum seekers and brazen fraudsters. Many Christians are of the opinion that they act out of charity and do something good. But truly they are stupid like sheep, who step before the knives of the heavenly Forces of Evil with knowing stupidity and deep-rooted fear.

"Brot für die Welt" is a charitable organization of several Deutsche (German) evangelic churches. According to their own statements "Brat fodder World" provides help for the work of church-based and church-free partner groups too. That network supports over 1.300 projects mostly in Africa. The main areas of it's work are to secure the nutrition, to promote education and health, to strengthen democracy, to respect human rights, the equality of man and woman, and the preservation of creation. "Brot für die Welt" justifies all this work with the Christian faith. These people see themselves as Christians.

Well, that is what an advertisement of this help organization tells us, I found it in the internet. It is now our question whether this help organization also helps to reduce population in those often terribly overpopulated countries, and whether they strive to cleanse the political leaderships of subhumans. Christians are often neither able nor willing to do this. Many fail to understand that there are people who are of low quality, due to their genes, with the consequences that God does not want them in this world. But also many leftists deem that Negroes can learn anything possible just by way of "information and education". As we prove to them that they are wrong, then some react with a fanatical stubbornness that is typical for Reds. Extremists also use violence then. So isn't it true that Christians really are not democrats at all, but the very opposite of it? Christians were for 2000 Christian years bad tyrants who forced the world under the yoke of lies and torture. They are the minions of the dark forces of the night sky. Saving the planet is not what these guys really think of, but they are determined to let their menaces to despoil Earth come true. Verily, it is only a typical lie of the Surtungs, when they purport that they rally for democracy and human rights; since the Bible demands of them obedience before the principal ideas of evil. So how can people become so silly that they don't even realize that they are bedeviled by the Forces of Evil, who scorn all the values they are chattering for? So silly can people be, when they are Christians.

Some people may still justify this whole bunch of lies, just like Jesus always justified fasting and booze and the end of the world. But the fact that the organization "Brot für die Welt" is – totally in opposition to the Bible – trying to save the Earth, proves that these people struggle to get to a distance from the heavenly Forces of Evil. The Greys won't easily allow this. The convoy of the Christian organizations must expect a big crisis. They would need a reformation. But while they keep on demanding more and more money for subhumans, they do more bad than good. If we put a brazen thinking of demands into the heads of the Negroes instead of telling them the hard truth, then it is to be expected that stupid heads will really believe that the Earth is flat, while Jesus sits above it on a cloud, with Mohammed and the angels. These are the bad consequences if a human life was built upon a basis of lies. Those lies then divert good money to the rogues and the social pests. For those who want to better help the Third World it would be better to see to it that "Brot für die Welt" does not receive further help funds who get diverted to unwanted growth-projects. But there is a typical hysterical stubbornness inside of leading Christians, that makes them react with defiance and fury to admonitions to turn their minds towards reason in religion. The Greys especially put the fanatical leading layers of such organizations under sexual control. These guys are really possessed by devils, they do a lot to destroy our creation. That includes Christians who knowingly support colored rogues and transport them into Europe. As they welcome unlimited reproduction they often are secretly sexually stimulated and spellbound. At night this lust comes to them under the likeness of sexual fantasies, to stimulate and to subdue such people. That is a phenomenon known to some psychologists too, but nobody so far could explain it. And exorcism according to the tradition of Jesus is not the way to overpower these spirits. Verily, I don't write these harsh words here to annoy people, but I do this since our reality is that hard. Only new humans will become really composed and fit, they may be able to escape from this dilemma.

There are not only bad helpers at the help organizations of the churches. "Brot für die Welt" also helps with unwanted pregnancies. Here women are not forcibly consulted to get that child. Such protestant aid organizations also for instance support the Negro land Ethiopia, when the task is to distribute free contraceptives. Well, those who donate to "Brot für die Welt" eventually can do something good. Good initiatives more often come up in the north of Deutschland than in the south. From the South-German village Korntal we read that from there with donated money these radical Christians also financed Bible schools in those lands of the coloreds, for instance in the East Asian region Sabah. It can't do something good if those Asian Mongos also learn Christian nonsense besides the Islam. Despite of this it is important what one of the "Brot für die Welt" consultants, Frau Meys from Dinslaken Deutschland (Germany), tells us about sex education:

»Youngsters often come up with the surprising idea that at the first time of intercourse or while having oral sex you cannot become pregnant, or that condoms may last forever.«

That ain't just bad nonsense that youngsters eventually distribute via the Internet, or also nasty freaks under a false ID. We should rather worry about the silliness of even good young Deutsche teens. Things can get that bad, not only because here in Deutschlând Bible badgers still sneak into the public schools, preferably under cover at dawn, to there spread their bad nonsense. But these false bits of information are instilled into the minds of the people by the Greys by way of N-rays. Only the new human, who is able to dissect this inner evil from his mind, is able to overcome this silliness. But for typical subhumans that chance just isn't there, due to their inescapable destiny. So, what we read from Frau Meys from the protestant Church EKD all sounds rather reasonable.

On official pictures she looks smart and blond – too bad that she is obviously overweight. Again we must ask the question: Why are many people damn silly, silly enough to simply eat too much? It is typical for Christianity that there are just no answers to such basic questions of life. But if a child has often seen in church that wine seems to be the food of the gods, while hearing that at a place called Cana Jesus miraculously worked wine “non limit”, then he hardly will escape from the temptation to start drinking alcohol even in teen age. And the way youngsters often are, they may drink more than they can tolerate. But with every glass too much, your good spirit and your self-discipline are sneaking away. Especially for women the consequence is slavery to addiction. That means that N-rays will forcibly drive them and put the pressure on them, bring them pains and shake them, to only stop as they submit to the forcing. Only those who come to know the new religion UTR will instead learn how it is possible to liberate oneself from this force, step by step. Since only God's religion UTR tells the truth, only by this way it is possible to reconstruct a human from the core on. A superior mental development now allows people to learn many things correctly, for instance how to find and keep to a diet that is really healthy. Such a new human will learn too what kind of effort for other people pays, and where he should better not provide help. We must also take refuge to unpopular measures and stop hunger aid where it leads to unsound growth, or where it ends up in false hands. Approximately one billion humans suffer from severe hunger! If we don't develop a very new cleverness and true courage, then that plight won't change.

7. The Cannibal Church

The church always lied, and rarely people blamed it for this. All started with the lie of the resurrection. In 2015 the Vatican issued a paper that blamed global warming as the culprit for all the bad things in the world. If they would like to be taken more seriously, we would have to demand of them more competence.

This manipulated image reveals the true origin of many plights of this world. Not only the lies of some old clerics, but the secret desires of the ugly women often made the pope get that popular. Due to his strong presence in the media the pope becomes the center of the emotions of women who, for God's will, should not have children. It is true what the poster says, some people really love that oldster. Sometimes they follow him into the nighttime with their lust. And many clerics willfully let themselves be “laid”, by sexual spirits who give them hot nights. Only a church that foreswears sinful lust can also overcome it's errors.

When it comes to the Roman Catholic church, right now God cannot rely on them at all regarding the big objectives of our present time. That was made clear by Pope Franziskus when recently he gave an interview, during his flight back from the Philippines. There we heard him talk like this: They should not reproduce »like rabbits«. But contraception remains verboten.

Right now the economic-liberal to left-liberal press pushes the pope into the front position. But those statements that come out of his mouth often depend on the actual situation he is in, while reporters continuously question him. In a plane high up in the stratosphere the Earth Goddess has significantly less power than somewhere else. That means that such an oldster would possibly not have made such an uncouth and senseless remark during a walk in the park. It is bad though that millions of humans will die because of these ill thought-out words. It's because now Catholics in all of the world will interfere into contraception and the disruption of pregnancies, using many pretexts, but mainly because they hope to gain more power for their church and their lobbies from an explosion of population. In Roman-Catholic countries full of colored subhumans, for instance in El Salvador, typical Latino women bear their first child early in life. Rapes and slave trade are widespread there. A deluge of inferior Brownies is the consequence that spills over the USA. The danger that today's Latino invasion means for the white countries can't be taken too seriously! But that is unfortunately just what many Roman-Catholic clerics secretly plan. After a large number of cases of sexual misconduct made this church go bankrupt in California, they hoped to recover with the help of the Latino dwarf invasion. A new mafia is supposed to reconquer church territory that Mexico once lost due to political inability. In all the world Christians try to gain power with the help of massive reproduction. Alike are the perspectives of Muslims and other religious sects, who also expect to make more power and money with the help of more subhumans. Some old and deluded men wage a war against one another, a war that knows no gentleman's rules. Ultimately they all try to subjugate the world with the backing of their masses of subhumans. But they are wrong as they think that God is the one who goads them to this. Truly the cosmic devils are the ones who like to bow their necks and who sometimes even manage to speak from their mouths.

With a new encyclical (message) the Roman Popery pushed all the responsibility for all kinds of illnesses of this world on global warming. Those oldsters of the Vatican rely in a surprisingly massive way on Jewish Science, a lore that knows nothing of God and does not want to learn more. Numerous are the quotations of research work over the scarcity of water as one origin of poverty. But the main reason for the hunger in this world, that is overpopulation, is mentioned only once and fleetingly. It is strange and yet significant that this drastic tissue of lies was warmly welcomed especially by some organizations of the infidels. We read here the names of Greenpeace, Oxfam, Friends of the Earth; along the side of several insider circles of the UN and the universities. But it's misleading if one may think that he should not find behind these groups of supporters the same bad old faith that the Popery promotes. Since the end of the ice ages the Earth Goddess indeed constantly warms up the planet Earth. So she really is behind global warming. But it's all untrue that global warming causes more droughts and environmental catastrophes. Only where bad quality humans and subhumans negate the spiritual bond that binds them to Mother Earth, and then willfully or recklessly ruin Nature, only there the climate develops in a negative way. That is often irrelevant for Christians since they hope for a better life in heaven. But they are misled by the tale of resurrection, by just an easily refutable lie.

Jesus allegedly stepped out of his tomb on Easter. Then on his Father's day trip he flew up into outer space. But on Corpus Christi (aka Happy Carcass) he was back in bread, or more precisely, he miraculously transformed into that edible paper that is traditionally consumed in church. It's surely not sure to the church what that all may mean. Just before his resurrection Jesus allegedly made a short visit in hell, but his body (corpus) became heavenly manna in the end. How is all that explainable? We didn't expect that the priests of lies could ever explain such fantasies, but that was the secret of belief. Now, the solution to the riddle can be found with a look at some other similar fantastic legends. In many myths we find a hero getting carried up by dream vessels, magic animals or fabulous creatures into the sky. Mythology tells us of many fabulous creatures. Among them are Pegasus, the Scythian griffins, or recently the Vatican's own bankrupt vulture. Garuda and Rock, Simorgh and Sis are such miracle birds too, who were expected to carry dead heroes and saviors into the blue. And yes, that is exactly the same story that the Bible tells us of Jesus. Allegedly angels carried dead Jesus into heaven. When Maria Magdalena visited the empty tomb she allegedly saw these angels. These wondrous creatures knew heaven and also they could talk. Thus we may compare them with the wondrous birds described by the poet Aristophanes.

The entire myth is stupid and brazen and only was invented years after the death of Jesus, but it really sounds like a story from heaven. We find that the birds of Aristophanes behaved in a quite similar way. These wondrous birds allegedly transmitted messages from the gods of heaven down to humankind, well really? Nope, the fact is that these birds only told people bare-necked lies. Behind a myth of a wondrous animal there often was a scavenger. Already in very old times some Egyptians believed that those scavengers, like jackals and vultures, would carry the dead into the other world. In ancient Arabia therefore the vulture god Nasr was seen as a deity of the dead, and in ancient Egypt the jackal-god Anubis became the guide of the souls. Indeed some dead persons physically transformed into a lot of vultures. But those vultures who fly up to heaven with their bellies full don't really stay up there. The things they were eating too fall back down to the ground in parts. So if one dead savior should come back to Earth on the festive day of the Happy Meal in the form of digested rests of a vulture's swill, then he becomes valuable guano, and that turns into grain, and that is supposed to become bread. The bread of the Christians too is earthly. Any sane mind can easily come to this conclusion. Now, with the mystery tale of a transformation God tells this story to the simple minded people, the children and even to the clerics; by way of a parable. But it needs not be that Jesus first became a vulture, and later turned into droppings, that became bread. The legend has it that his tomb was emptied. Someone did let his body disappear. Shortly before his death Jesus and his disciples had experienced hard times. They had been driven away from Jerusalem, and now they were just a band of hungry loafers and miserable men roaming through the nearby valley of Kidron. We may well believe that these homeless people in dire need were eating all kinds of things, for instance also the rests of their dead. The Bible tells us too of the bad hunger that the 4.000 or more Hebrews had to endure who had ventured with Moses into the desert. They only could wail of the meat pots of Egypt, and it didn't help when some of these Jews, with the gold that they still had, made a small statue of the ancient Egyptian bull god Apis. But then some miracle birds helped, and that is not a cock-and-bull story. Moses received those very strict laws. Some Biblical tales allow the idea that at that time people were killed for breaking the laws of Moses. We don't read what subsequently happened. But we may assume that no hungry Hebrew was willing to hear the true story, when Moses later gave out manna to them, a wondrous food that allegedly came down from above. The Bible then tells us that on six days manna would fall down from heaven, but not on the seventh day of Sabbath. I say, the Bible lies! We should not spend too many words on the old nonsense that the Popery still spreads. That is the stuff that God uses to lead unteachable oldsters into the off.

8. That Adversary is vincible

Many think that, regarding this world's hunger, we can't really change something. Negroes remain just the way they are, and we can be glad if they behave and stay in Africa, else they may transform into a global Negro plague and bring down other countries. Then we westerners will have African problems too, where the jobless and the poor often don't receive any help from the government, since rogues of various sorts traditionally take care that hardly anyone pays taxes, until governments fail to work. Those people who know God's religion UTR and then see how bad things become may secretly often fear that those Greys, who attack us with the energy of dark stars, are simply too strong. But let us not overlook those many small successes who are secretly won by the Earth Goddess.

Oh yes, here we see one very black and very religious Negro, the pro-football player Ujah. Some religiously very outdated Cologne people greeted it with much sympathy, when he told to the press that prior to an important match he went to the big black church (the Dome of Cologne) to pray "for victory and for three league points". But his successful time at the club 1. FC Köln (Cologne) suddenly ended, when in a key match he kicked out his team from the competition with an own-goal. Swiftly the clever Austrian coach sold him to Bremen, and maybe he will soon be sent to Troy as a present. Those who know Negroes well know that they may play excellent for some time, but then may sink into a deep crisis of form, and arrive soon at their career's end. That is of course due to the work of the dark forces.

DFB-POKAL-ACHTELFINALE
Doppelschlag, Frei
Eigentor von Ujah,

It can't well be true what Christians traditionally believe, that Jesus lives on in heaven as a spirit, to practically rule the Earth from up there, which means that only those may ascend to his place who used to commit to him during their lifetimes. This nonsense may easily be discarded as idiotic. But it is hard to endure the attacks of the Greys, who often hit those better young people, the people the overworked Earth Goddess does care for. If that is your problem, then it may turn out that you get duped again and again and stand there like an idiot. Those who understand the wisdom of God from the core on are already regarded as enemies by those cosmic devils. It is our strategy that more and more people proceed a little with their insight, so that the Greys may never know exactly whom they should assault with their terrible power. Those Greys live light-years away and often they don't realize well what is going on here at our place. But they still often notice the people they have under control, and also those who are liked by the Goddess. Thus we may explain why some Negroes, during their typical streak of success, can overpower all Whites with easiness, while genetically well evolved Whites in exposed positions often have typical bad luck. Here too it plays a central role that our world is much too full. Since the Earth Goddess has to watch over security issues and so many things during big events, she often allows it that the Greys power up one Negro and make him popular, instead of causing a disaster. Here the Greys are typically motivated by the direct situation of competition. It is a real miracle when some Negroes, who would be dozy and out of ideas in Africa among more Negroes, suddenly develop an exceptional talent, while they jointly train with some Whites. Such exceptional Negroes then mislead a majority of disbelievers and deluded people over the fact that Negroes are in general just inferior. But even those exceptional Negroes, like for instance the musician Michael Jackson, often show the social incompetence that is typical for Negroes. Just think of this gay ape of him!

Of course magic is involved when the American football egg moves the way one Negro hopes it would. The Goddess can spend little time for sports, since this world suffers so much from many plights. She expects that better Whites will not avert the attention of the public with the help of ball game magic from those problems. Instead it is the task of those better Whites to better up the world, with a sense for the right time and with courage. UTR has big plans, but where are the first achievements? Not only would we need a new government for this world. But we also need new technologies. Only this will allow us to directly interfere into many crisis regions of this world. With the help of the new anti-gravity flying disks we could transport mountains of help goods into all regions of the Earth. This future was already foreseen by those cargo cults who once were liked in the South Sea region. But for the time being the risks linked to this new technology are just too high. We would have to fear that deluded people fly into outer space to search Jesus, to only come back as some crazy enemies of Earth. In the abyss of space N-rays come in stronger than down here, and the farther away humans get away from Earth the fewer powers the Earth Goddess holds over them. I won't write too much about those technological fantasies, since I am not really in the position to develop them. And Sofia Ewa only tells me the things I need to know.

More important than my texts is the wisdom of the Goddess of Earth. With my coming she has grown more powerful. That means that We God are now able to directly communicate with many people the mentalist way, to support them with divine wisdom. At all periods of time humanity intensely pondered over the mystery of religion. Many people were and still are incommunicado, they are beyond reach for God's interior voice. Often an old mother is the problem, who cannot get over her false beliefs. Only now God can better handle many of these deluded people.

The Power of God establishes as the Realm of God for the hail of the world. That will have the consequence that many powerful men, who lived easy lives so far and acted unfairly, need to engage more for the world of the paupers. What can the rich gain as they hoard and pile up food and money? Their life is short anyway. Instead of for sports results man should develop interest for successes in the struggle for a better world. The thinking of the people needs to change, only then those successes will happen. With the help of UTR good young new humans will be able to free themselves from the drive to quarrel, from silliness and greed. They will be able to ward off unwanted stimulation and drives. By this way God will grant better, more free and more comfortable lives even to the subhumans. Even those who should not and may not have children, according to God's plan, have the right to live a life that is half-way good. That good divine grant is but taken away from them by a few clerics, by rich people and by deluded left-wingers, who step into the way as God now erects the Realm of God for the hail of the world.

9. Well then, guzzle Dirt!

Can't God help some more? Many people who are good on the inside and who care for Earth are in fact disappointed facing God. For a long time God apparently did let them be. Instead of learning the truth, they were hearing all kinds of lies, including the bad Jewish lies who made them become enemies of their Goddess. God waited a long time for the Savior, that is me. Only now God is strong enough to reveal the truth to humankind, but also strong enough to more or less protect them before the potentially deadly attacks with N-rays. However, even the smarter friends of the Goddess are still in danger of stumbling over lies and mean tricks.

It is hard to believe today what kind of stuff people believed in, in the old days. We hear strange things of the cleric Gregory of Tours (outer left side). Just like many other Christians, lazy Greg often was plagued by diseases. Against these he drank a cocktail that he had mixed from water and dirt! Indeed Greg believed that humus from the tomb of Saint Martin of Tours would help him, and this even seemed to work out. We must conclude that the fooleries in the perimeter of the tomb of Saint Martin of Tours are among those historically most renowned. That is no coincidence, but we may explain it with the teaching that the belief in Saint Martin is quasi fractally linked to the belief of the neighboring world of Elves. There another Martin is deemed to be the local Jesus, the false savior of that planet. That means that it could happen to our people, who believed in a Saint Martin, that their intuition was misleading them in a very mean way. Due to these fractal bonds to our sister-planet of Ga-Leta, God has to stop good people constantly and to mislead them. Only this explains also why the Goddess had to mislead for such a long time the whole world, with the help of the Bible. The world of the Elves is more under cosmic pressure than we are, so we need to take care. So are you hungry until your stomach hurts? Then eat dirt! That was in the end the bad lore that Gregory of Tours gave Christians on their way. Doubtless such medicinal nonsense reveals the Forces of Evil who are behind it. It interests and amuses the Greys when they lead humankind into gruesome errors, with the help of deluded clerics and teachers. So far nobody realized that they work miracles too for these purposes. Not only can I explain miracles, but I can also explain how to eat well, something that will allow God to work nicer miracles. The Goddess-Diet of the UTR can help God to heal people. As a routine God anyway lets many damages disappear who were caused by bad destiny. A scar may suddenly vanish, and a wart never existed, because God changed the past. Sometimes medicine finds out about these secrets, but rarely the medics are able to deal with them. Miracles can in fact explain some absurd teachings of medicine, who are obvious nonsense and were angrily disputed for a long period of time. For instance miracles loom behind the obviously stupid method of the German medic Samuel Hahnemann, the one who invented the lore called homeopathy. This lore would have flunked at every idiot's test, since this Samuel was of the opinion that medical drugs can transmit a healing power onto mere water! The problem of this lore was that in some cases it did work out. Those who drank the diluted water of Samuel would experience genuine miracles. With biting fervor opponents and supporters of that lore feuded for a long time. Only the UTR can explain why just Samuel happened to put this great nonsense into our world. His success was, like in other similar cases, due to his Sam-Name.

Typical for Negroes is the belief in drugs. Together with the Negro-music called Reggae ganja (cannabis) was made popular in white countries too. But behind this lurks a Negro-religion, that teaches that the white race shall self destruct, also by the abuse of drugs. Drugs make it easier for the devils to damage your head and to work bad miracles.

Today many white medics are the ones who most outspokenly act up against hunger and for the paupers. Good medics help those women who don't want to have children, and it doesn't matter what outdated clerics say to this. Many of these are but a little left-winged. They don't understand miracles, but they believe in the miraculous healing effects of their medical drugs. Seen this way they are the mentally lesser people, compared to their poor patients. It is typical for many simple people that they perceive miracles and also basically understand them. Well, only with the help of UTR the medic may really get mentally fit for his position. And even those who hear and learn a little about this will grow in their spiritual power. That new medic will become more than just a specialized learned scholar, he needs to work in accordance with God. He can't afford to further ignore the astounding finds made by fringe sciences. Miracles work in principle, it may happen that the sick become healed, that is something that research has already clearly shown. God will but also expect of the new medic that he does away with life that is unworthy and too much a life of suffering. To heal and to destroy, both must work out as we attempt to rid this world of plights. If children cannot be fed one should rather kill them mercifully than let them suffer.

But Christians will object to this, while they remember some stories about miracles. It was seen as the greatest miracle that Jesus allegedly was able to work food only by way of magic. However as we scrutinize the Bible we are shocked by the find that many of those miracle stories are just untrue. The story of the feeding of the 4.000 was even a complete invention. The truth was that a group of 4.000 hungry early Christian ravers and robbers was butchered by the Romans. Often out of disappointment over the Bible good believing Christians turned into secret rogues. It helped them not a lot when they realized, like Gregory of Tours did, that real miracles exist too. Often there was an evil tendency behind those real miracles. Often a Force of Evil seemed to delude clerics with the help of miracles, until those would make fools of themselves. Indeed the Bible was a means too of God to not let clerics get too powerful. The good Earth Goddess took the side of the real nobles, if those were humans of better genetic quality. Typical clerics were lowly people, and the Earth Goddess could not influence them enough. That was to the liking of the Greys, who always try to make worlds get worse, with the help of the clerics. The most important weapon that the Greys use in this secret war, that is hunger. The more unwanted children a world has, with no good place for them, the more power the Greys reap. It helped the Forces of Evil then that some humans had an interest too to let unwanted children be born. They saw to it that hard times waited for orphans and miserable kids.

In all ages Christians tended towards torture. In the rather Christian era of the Bonner Republic in West-Deutschland (West-Germany), slave labor and beatings were seen as being typical in orphanages. It is especially terrible that sadistic educators from churches gave out those beatings »in the name of the Lord«. Roman-Catholic networks of cronies saw to it that during those leaden years not only far too many unwanted and racially inferior children were born, by way of tough state-and-church laws. But clerics and chair persons also were furious because of the loss of power they had to experience, and they vented their anger upon helpless kids. Orphans were badly treated in many countries, and some were forced into prostitution with the consent of their church. The networks of rogues who still exist in most Roman-Catholic countries are even today hardly vincible.

This problem is especially one of the rich and the economic liberals. With the help of the mass of unwanted and badly nourished subhumans rich clubs regulate the world the way they like it. That means that humans of those “cheap nations” must work at such a low cost and so hard that people in the west cannot compete. This way the workers and the middle class entrepreneurs in Europe and the USA are stripped of their rights. Righteous Deutsche cannot compete with the firms who, like a mafia of slave-holders, let cheap workers drudge who have no rights and receive minimal wages only. The consequence is that many young people with good genes, who could have made it in life, must loaf on the streets after they finished school. That forces people not rarely to enter bad ways. For many women that means harsh exploitation and the experience of sexual violence and cruelty. As more and more people must share the same sphere of life, they are less and less held back by the drive of self-control from their young days on. That is a natural phenomenon that researchers remodeled with rats in a laboratory. Those Christian laws against contraception lead naturally to more cruelty and a loss of social skills. That meets well the expectations of bad Christians only, who still look forward to a near end of the world. Regarding this the expectations of many Christians and the heavenly Greys are nearly identical. It is an old tradition that a church does not get involved into affairs of the world, but regards heaven as it's fantastic playground. But those teachings of the Christians of heaven are just absurd, they were refuted a long time ago.

In Berlin and elsewhere the radical Christian organization Arche (Ark) is popular, since it gives out free meals to kids. But many leftist-liberal-Christian media overlook the fact that in there also rational minded kids are obliged to speak the bizarre Christian prayers. For this the Ark receives, like similar organizations, some money from public coffers. It helps fanatical Christians a lot that in Berlin too many disadvantages kids live. Where a child is welcome and where families function, there such Evangelicals are often disliked.

In other regions too radical clerics resist against contraception, so that more people stay hungry, who can easily be abused and exploited. For instance we heard from the today economic-liberal to authoritarian-fascist China, that condoms are hard to get there. That leads China into a pressing environmental pollution crisis and into a sneaking degradation. But such a policy of “non-limit growth” fits well into the theories of the typical outdated economic-liberal world leaders. They urgently demand more and more growth in all the world, and even harsher competition and lower prices. We heard such talk for instance from the Negro and rapist Jacob Zuma, at the recent G-20 summit of economics. That is the consequence if we include such subhumans into our politically responsible circles. Instead we need good women who have a heart, and who take care that many people no longer are mistreated and exploited mercilessly, just because they are many too many.

Finally God will work miracles, with the consequence that subhumans cease to reproduce in the typical unfettered way, bound to reduce genetic and social standards of the world. God improved his control over the “mojo”, the spiritual aspect of the libido (sexual energy). In many regions we regulate down sexual desire. That means that low-quality and bad people won't be able to have as many children as before. That work is not necessary regarding homosexuals or racially valuable couples. Already now this divine policy shows successes. Especially Muslim leaders try to cross and dissect God's plans. With dark hordes of mean Muslims they want to conquer all the world, to erect a state of sadism, violence and tyranny. We westerners can't well let that happen, can we?

A short time ago the oldster Shiite leader Chamenei called for the installation of an Islamic dating portal in the Iran. That should make those Iranians procreate more progeny. It is astounding that some such old clerics understand what the Internet is, even while there is no mention in the Koran of it. Some Shiites are still the more intelligent guys compared to the common Muslims.

Radical Muslims in Europe are under special care of God, to really prevent them from having children. In Berlin recently a scandal took place. The cleric Abdel Qader Daoud had molested a woman. He had come to a couple to work magic with the effect that they would receive the mojo, so that the woman would get lusty. For hours Abdel recited verses from the Koran. But when that didn't help he touched that women in between the legs. Before that incident Abdel had subscribed to the notion of the radicals, that a Muslim has the right to command his woman into the bed. We must fame this woman for having the courage to put this mean Salafist to criminal persecution.

God teaches humans that firstly by way of healthy nutrition and lifestyle they can remain fit and sane for nearly all of their lifetime. Then it may happen that they feel a cancer sore, that vanishes like naturally after a few days and some fresh baths. That will save us from tough, expensive and often harmful treatments. With UTR we can spend more time on the aid that is really needed and does something good. New humans will know how to endure their life without seeing a medic, just by way of keeping fit and staying healthy. God who created humankind is their best medic.

Unfortunately there are too many people in the west who hold on to an unsound lifestyle. Some rather speed with a car across the landscape instead of doing healthy sports. One symbol of the sports-car culture was the US-American Paul Walker, known as the idol of the film series "Fast and Furious". Walker also cared for the poor, and such people may get into the focus of secret N-ray attacks. Paul Walker died when his friend Roger Rodas caused an accident, while he was speeding in a modded-up Porsche. Since Rodas had been some kind of Latino-Negro halfbreed, many media nearly covered up this case.

By the way, the Goddess-Diet of the UTR teaches that a healthy and low-fat diet at the right time is the best method to lose weight. Already at the beginning of May I started my summer training, which means that I swim in the open water of some lake. In winter time, like often, I had become a little more stout. So I wanted to test what my own diet lore would lead to. During one month I lost approximately eight kilos, with the effect that my sports trousers again fit well, who had become a little too tight. Such a diet makes even a really cold swim enjoyable, as a good effect shows up.

If we really want to let hunger vanish, then we must firstly get over false thinking. Our good way leads us to spiritual peace with our environment. But since it's foundation the Christian religion taught people to reject not only Mother Nature but also their bodies as worldly and bad. Fasting was part of their rites, often they were finding this lusty; they were addicted to a perversion, the result of the efforts of – without doubt – gruesomely cruel forces. It was common that those forces would "reward" self-torture with inner supporting voices or with lusty sensations. That was not a message for the Children of Light. But by that wicked way God lured the somber people astray, those who should have no good place in life due to their bad development or their bad genes. Since we arrived in a better and all-new situation lately, God can dare to tell the truth now to the world. Stop Hunger – this is definitively a parole that can only come from God himself.

10. Our Brother's Keepers

In theory we good white westerners could stop hunger in all the world in just a few years. We have enough food. But so far all our costly efforts to help were thwarted by population growth and ineffective politics. Today the west itself is dangerously indebted. While their situation gets stressful, paupers in many countries look for a rogue they can blame. It's a tradition that many people in trouble look to Germany as this world's favorite culprit. That happens if we fail to be our brother's keepers.

Hunger is already a big problem in the USA, currently this planet's leading super power. Estimations have it that 50 % of the US citizens receive food aid. Things are much worse in cities like Detroit where mostly Negroes live. Nobody invests into a city where fences must be built to keep wild-roaming Negroes away from the streets. As coloreds are bred and fed they vote colored politicians into office. That was not the way the west was won. We need to reshape our politics, starting with the old-time religions who mislead us and make us weak. True religion can bring Whites to the top, where they perform best. And this religion is what Deutschland (Germany) shall provide now, for the sake of this world. Based on UTR we can install a "noble government of consensus" in most regions of this planet. When the paupers must no longer fear to starve they will gladly subscribe to this.

But not only bad coloreds are our big problems. Typical Reds are driven by a rebel instinct, and religion was not their favorite subject at college. Here we see a manipulated image, from recent protests in Cyprus and Greece against German chancellor Frau Merkel. Radical leftists drafted of her the picture of some kind of Nazi vampire. Then oldsters, who fear to lose the little money that they have, demanded of her to leave them alone. This old lady obviously found a bearded poster of chancellor Merkel on the streets. Most recently the beard became fashionable again in Europe, surely due to the winning performance of this bearded Austrian drag queen Frau Wurst at the Eurovision Song Contest. And yes, now I wear a beard too. Well then, since I am destined to become this world's only King of Kings I can already foresee the day when Reds will raise similar posters against me – if I should fail to save this planet from all problems in a few years. Many people sense that Deutschland is this world's leading nation. For some the consequence is that they blame Germany for all of their troubles. To counter this we Deutsche (Germans) often duck and act concerned. But while this planet is in dire need of a more courageous leadership, people also give Deutschland the blame for failing to lead.

Deutschland is indeed to blame – but mainly for not ending the present disastrous era of hyper-growth and money juggling, that slowly but effectively ruins the European Union and the USA. Destiny makes many people look out for a better German leadership. But we Germans can't take the lead while we are internationally and internally so weak, and so unenlightened. Anglo-American culture and politics effectively dominate this planet. In most political circles those few Germans need to talk English, but still they are regarded as odd outsiders if not as secret Nazis. Especially Reds step in the way of Germany. But also bad religious and ethnic groups make coloreds and dark people reproduce, to make them intrude into the EU as bad immigrants. With more such bad people Germany could become a worse nation, maybe a Nazi state again – the enemy that left-wingers expect.

Until today many think that Nazis and blond Nordic people are by nature egoistic and often bad. However it is often overseen by atheist experts that the German Nazi party was not really a party of blond Nordic people. Early Nazis were South-Germans and Roman Catholics with strong ties to the Oriental, who tried in vain to win support in Britain and the North. The Nazis were voted into office by some Reds too, since they were false leftists who wrongly claimed to be socialists. Indeed the Nazi movement was organized and financed by a conspiracy. The Thule sect had been founded by a Turkish esoterical migrant, and Hitler's second man Hess even came from Egypt. It was the Surtung (Southerner) Joseph Goebbels then, from the Roman stronghold Cologne (Köln), who challenged the World War II allies to fight a total war versus Deutschland, with the result that millions of women and children were cruelly killed as their cities were bombarded. We may compare Goebbels to the Roman tribune Germanicus, who had tried to uproot as many Germanic as possible, exactly 2.000 years ago. Likewise the Roman-Frankish emperor Charlemagne (Karl) had killed many Germanic who refused to become Roman-Catholics, most notably in Verden. We may well say that all those rogues had just been tools of the Greys who tried to destroy Germany. So guess what some modern Romans try again today? Our food aid is to blame too for the inflow of bad quality non-European migrants, who are mostly Christians or Muslims by religion. Some such hostile immigrants soon turn into gangsters, or start a small war to drive out Deutsche from the houses they want. Muslims take over entire city quarters with the plan to make them become ethnic oriental zones. Some leftists nevertheless traditionally still lobby for any immigrants, since they dislike Deutschland in general. Christians have the correct idea that simple colored people are more open for their old-time lore. And let's not forget the economic liberals and the rich, who welcome low-quality immigrants as cheap workers. Chancellor Merkel too seems to dream of a "brave new world", where the sheepish subhumans keep calm and work for an ever smaller sum of money. UTR though teaches that there are Greys who massively and secretly attack God. They can handle well those coloreds, with the consequence that these did bring down many a nation. But that is still not a problem for those who fall for old-time religions, since they hope that spirits may reward them in the afterlife, even for acts of terror and self-inflicted torture. Bad religion is much more dangerous than you can imagine while you don't know the devils who lurk behind it.

Since Deutschland is a powerful member of the EU, many blame it for recent financial crisis. It's definitely not easy to understand financial politics. Many European nations, in particular Cyprus, Greece, Spain and Portugal, are so highly indebted that they are effectively bankrupt. Nobody with a sane mind would still give Greece a loan and really hope that he sees this money again some years later. Few Greeks still pay taxes to the government. But gangsters, hedge funds and loan sharks still take a risk in Greece, at astronomical interest rates and for a short time only. That way these "locusts" squeeze rests of money and valuable assets even out of a bankrupt nation. We might imagine those shady guys hustling out of the back doors of closed banks with big money sacks. Some of that money will secretly finance the actors then who pose as Nazis, to make sheepish Christians think that Germans are to blame for it all.

Deutschland currently intervenes in many regions of this world. We even donate money to hungry Negroes that we borrow from rich Negro oligarchs. How can we Deutsche be so terribly stupid, while we are really a bankrupt nation, with a national debt of over 2 trillion Euros or US-$? When the British prime minister James Cameron recently warned us that we needed to take action to stop the inflow of false refugees, Chancellor Merkel committed to the human right of migration. But that can't well apply to the subhumans.

GOOD FOOD - GOOD PEOPLE

What will happen in eleven years? Get busy for the Agenda 2024, the draft for a better future! We can solve the problems of our world! We can make nature and the environment get well. We can create good jobs. For all this we need a better sort of humans – that is easy to understand. The Agenda 2024 proposes to the younger ones: Let's jointly create a humankind version 2.0!

A HEALTHY LIFE IS A BETTER LIFE

How can I live a good life instead of feeling bad? How can I avoid to ruin my body, to become a weakling fast? How can I well control myself and avoid getting bad? Good nutrition and a sane way of living are essential for all this. That is what all know in principle. But the problem is that many people often let themselves get soft. They eat bad things and live unhealthily. They cannot abstain from their miscellaneous addictions and unsound habits. Even while they are young some start with a life of booze, and that often makes them dumb in short time. Their younger days are over soon. Then many start to go and see the medics. Aged people often throw in lots of pills, but many must suffer from substantial pains, while their life gets ever worse. Low-quality medics like to proscribe lots of medical drugs. Medics of better quality have the better recipes, like this one:

You don't need to take in medication when the problem is only common pains. Often a walk already helps. Fitness sports, wandering, showers of warm and cold water, all this also helps. A body that can better adapt to diverse situations of strain, can also better compensate stress. [German consumer mag "Stiftung Warentest test" 01/2010 p. 88 f.]

CAN ALCOHOL AND DRUGS HELP?

Many humans counter sleeplessness in a different way. They start to drink alcohol or they take in drugs. Some welcome it when drugs and alcohol take away their inhibitions and seem to expand their consciousness. "Booze for beauty really works out", that is what the press tells us at times. They mean the effect that people find each others more attractive as they drink more. Then some will sooner have intercourse. We read things like this [German daily KStA, 18. 11. 2013 p. 27]:

I take drugs to get cozy with my homosexual partner. I feel just like a little child then, and that doesn't work out without the drug. But some time later I'm on turkey. "For three days I feel madly bad and swear to myself that I'll never take that stuff again. Every time it costs me a week of my life."

Drugs are known to have many nasty by-effects. Also they may come to you mixed with poison or battery acid, with washing powder or glass splinters. Addicted people still take them in, again and again. Why can't those people stop? Psychiatrists blame the role-specific behavior of young men. Those shrinks conclude that drugs make you cold and aggressive. Under the influence of drugs children are procreated that this world doesn't need. Drug cultures like reggae originate from bad-luck people. For many drug consumers it is understood that they want and should want to get away from this. But it is not clear to them how bad their situation can become, when they only occasionally smoke hashish (cannabis, marijuana). Constantly cases make it to page one of the papers of one hash smoker who suddenly becomes a criminal. One of these guys was Thomas S. from K. in Germany. He had killed his cousin Sabine to roast parts of her body in the oven and then consume them. Later he had himself called the police, since he had no idea left in his mind of what he had previously done. Into the protocols of the police Thomas explained this:

I had smoked some dope (hashish). When I woke up, the bathtub was full of blood. In there were the head of Sabine and a pelvis bone.

In that abnormal case we must well conclude that a strange spirit dominated the mind of Thomas S. That strange entity split the mind of Thomas. Such take-over phenomena are well attested in those cases of a “multipersonal disturbance”. Then you are gone, like someone else just controls your brain. Many psychiatrists are at the end of their wits them, some even deny the possibility that such disturbances may occur. That is also due to the fact that in such cases frequently super-natural phenomena play a role. Even “Catholic institution professionals” can't handle this at all.

HOW CAN I WANT WHAT I REALLY WANT?

Definitely and in any case it is better to leave drugs alone and to instead lead a healthy life. Many people heed such good resolutions. But as they are nicely seated at home while it's wet outside, it's not easy to find the spirit to get up and active. Many can't want to live a healthier life. Why is this so? Many people have the problem that they stick to a very old religion.

Any Christian knows that clerics cheer to wine and bread as the preferred food of their religion. Indeed Jesus had been a loafer and “winebibber” (drunkard), who could be glad if he would at least receive bread and wine. But to prefer bread and wine as your meal is definitely bad and unsound. Jesus just had no good ideas of fitness, since he seems to have had the general expectation that this world would go under anyway very soon. Other bad religions too teach that man will live on after death some other time, and then will receive a reward even for acts of self-torture and terrorism. That can't well be true.

Apparently often religion is to blame if people cannot find their will to live well. Many religions are just outdated. If we want to raise a better humankind of tomorrow, then we need to overcome bad and outdated religious views and traditions. For this we need a new reasonable religion. We need a religion that teaches humans about the right way to eat. Luckily this new religion is there for you today! It is God's one and only true religion, the Universal Truth Religion (UTR).

UTR recommends a diet with plenty of protein. That is present in fresh milk and in eggs, in smoked fish and in nuts. Fresh products like carrots and apples are part of this diet. Dextrose gives energy for the important daily time in the open, where there is fresh air. Stimulants like coffee, tea and cigarettes are not good. We also don't need all these ads for alcohol or other less healthy products, including cars. Instead we could well do more to promote milk in schools. Let's start and sponsor milk bars and mass sports events.

ANYBODY GETS MENTALLY DISTURBED!

Did I make myself clear now? The sad truth is however that problems often only start to come up, as some younger people decide to live reasonable and healthy lives. Suddenly such people may encounter mental troubles. Reality seems to fall apart as humans come massively under attack. Those who turn to the medics now with trust in their hearts, often will get under the amplified influence of evil. No medic really knows what is happening in the head, when one hears voices or gets a migraine, or when you feel well as you take drugs. Evil forces from heaven are behind this.

According to the new catalog DSM-5 of medicine, nearly everyone can be declared as being mentally disturbed. By that way the industry of medical drugs earns billions. But the treatment of mental disturbances with drugs is dangerous or even life-threatening. Several times those medical drug firms had to suddenly withdraw even especially trusted medication. Psychiatrist Ms. Nancy A. checked the brains of 200 schizophrenics, to find out that the more medical drugs had been taken, the more the brain had been shrinking.

What is at the origin of most severe mental disturbances, who may suddenly hit people? And who can help when neither churches nor hospitals know what to do? The new religion UTR teaches to rely on the healing power of Mother Nature. The good spirit of Earth now shows to the young and bright humans how to live healthy lives. This way they can grow up well to become nobles who are full of the force. Humanity 2.0 will be good and strong enough to really understand the world.

THE SHORT WAY TO WISDOM

This is a short introduction into God's unique Universal Truth Religion (UTR). It is written for the bright and young with good development perspectives. While most old-time religions bring up bad lies and fooleries, UTR is honest and facts-based. God strives to rid this world from evil interference and turn it into a real paradise.

WISDOM IS GOOD FOR QUALITY PEOPLE

Can it be that God exists? Most modern people don't know much about God and fail to really care. They rather struggle to find a job and a partner, only to learn later that more wisdom would have served them well. But no priest nor philosopher provided that. Only UTR puts an end to that old misery, with God's wisdom that excels at all usability tests.

God's wisdom can for example explain that Biblical wisdom legend. We read that God (Hebrew: Jhwh, Jewish: Yahveh) warned first humans not to eat the fruits of wisdom in the garden of Eden. But then again, some snake of Eden advised Eva to do so, because this would make them as wise as gods. This tricky legend reflects the hopes of God, who wants the better humans to evolve and get wise. But evil star women (Hebrew: Astaroth) interfered into creation. They would make bad people reproduce, to bring down or subdue quality people. Cosmic devils commonly try to make all humans stay dumb. To protect people God too officially forbade them to try and get wise. But as the good snake of Eden, God secretly told the truth to some, that wisdom may serve them well.

Wisdom allows people to part good and bad. Thus they can avoid mistakes and perform better in life. True wisdom should teach bad people to make way for the bright ones. But many follow a natural unwise drive to compete. Behind this there is cosmic interference. Evil aliens mislead good people and power them down, while they power up some bad people with bad intentions. Wisdom may easily lead many people to the idea that it pays to be stupid and misbehave. The consequence is that some choose somber ways of life, while they deny the obvious idea that evil "spirits" exist who goad them onto these ways. If you get wise enough to realize what is good and what is not, then you also need to be strong enough to not fail to be good. Only a good "spirit" can give you that mental power.

God reveals now that Sofia Ewa (cosmic: Ga-Jewa) is our good Earth Goddess. She is a white congera, a super-worm. Created at Anna's star Mirà she traveled to planet Earth with a betyle (bethel, house of God), now resting deeply below Eden (Aden in Yemen). Ewa has created all good life on Earth and is mentally connected to all living creatures. As a good spirit she may bring you wise ideas. At nearby stars however, evil gray Greys live in dead planets. Evil aliens use N-rays to procreate bad life and to desecrate Earth. Groups of friendly aliens at distant stars try to help us, but here their powers are limited.

So this is God's wisdom. God must hope that the good people grow up well, to live long lives and have children. For ancient Nordic-Aryan heathens the good Goddess, called Idun (Eden) or Hebe (Ewa), was the lady with the food of longevity. The Bible always told lesser people the opposite.

Since they live at the center of Europe, the Deutsche (Germans) are this planet's chosen people. Here God's efforts to make humans evolve and get wise lead to best results. But some religious and political groups make dark people (Surtungs) reproduce too much, to tyrannize and bring down all countries. Reds have natural rebel instincts that make some reject God too. Oligarchs and market gamblers are often neither willing nor able to save the Earth from the hyper-growth crisis. Only a massive reduction of low-quality coloreds and Surtungs can reduce God's workload, with the effect that all crises will be resolved.

LET THE SAVIOR SET YOU FREE

The Savior, that's me. I made Sofia Ewa get stronger. She tells me secrets nobody ever knew, I write them up. My texts can save you from losing your hair and your mind with Jewish science. You may learn to deal with miracles, and step up the ladder of creation. With UTR you know more. Gaia saves! In the days of the Savior most old-timers are just outdated. If you realize that God really exists you can explain lots of facts and finds. Big secrets however are still kept secret by God, often with the help of some deluded Jews.

Most old-time scholars will surely object to this. But they fail to recognize things like the "Gaia theory". It's a load of finds who are unexplainable without the assumption of divine interference. Gaia theorists wonder over things like the movement of planets. While most exoplanets at other stars circulate wildly, in our Solar System many celestial bodies follow the law of Titius-Bode. Some unknown mechanism seems to regulate lots of such things, to allow life on Earth to thrive.

The name Gaia (Ga-Ewa) was used by the Titans. Exaggerated tales remind us of their prehistoric northern wonderland. Few golden-haired Titans lived a happy life in the woods. They kept peace and needed not work a lot, since Mother Nature provided them with many goods. The legendary Titan Kronos defended Gaia against the sexual assaults of the night sky, by way of sexual magic.

We may identify the Titans with the German Teutonic. Traces of their cult of "Frau Gaue" survived into the Christian era. Peasants would bind garbs and flowers to form an idol. Many ancient statuettes and tales too remind us of old cults of a goddess of fertility. As Titans mixed with Surtungs and adhered to sky gods of war, they lost their spell of luck.

Most women instinctively know some spell of love, sex and luck. UTR only explains it correctly. It's natural that you sense other people's minds. Our reality is blunt, and anyone is able to reshape it with his imagination. Fractal links bind many things so that they cannot change independently. The congeras use magnetic field-lines. Greys often stimulate creatures with nerve-wrecking heat. John the Baptist knew how to counter this, teaching hotheads that baptism helps to get rid of sins. So this is God's best advice too against marital and mental troubles: Go out and take a cool bath.

Since UTR is a meta-religion only, it's possible to still keep to others. But God's wisdom allows you to better understand old-time religions. Typical prophets were much deluded. So your main problem is that there is no deity who demands of you those many prayers. Let the Savior set you free from the lies and torture of the Greys! They made Christians, who were advised to love their enemies, later take up an abominable culture of torture. UTR teaches that one needs not fear these menaces that we will live again after death. There is no heaven in space, and no souls exist that store the info of deceased people.

So how may God help you? It already helps a lot when people realize that God does not demand of them to follow odd insane commandments or outdated teachings. Sofia Ewa only really favors some better white people, making good plans. God will enlighten these so that they hear the inner voice of God. That soft voice of the Earth Goddess or other good inspirations only come rarely. Often in key situations of a life people get nearer to that. But the Greys constantly interfere. The night sky often makes people get dizzy and then mean, until a wave of sexual desire follows. The Greys often apply brutal force as they are found out. With massive attacks they try to break your will, or they scare you and lead you into temptation and troubles. They jabber any stuff into your mind, and while they grab and focus your attention they try to bring you harm or bad luck. If you can't separate good and bad voices then better think for yourself. Keep to what is good and true.

Guided by God's inspiration the good people can learn how to eat and live cool and well. That will help to avoid diseases. Sofia Ewa works miracles to heal. Personal fitness and self discipline will stabilize your reality, so that you may live long with your love ones. You won't escape from being fooled and suffering, but that will help to save the Earth.
